

Charley Harper and the Potato Birds

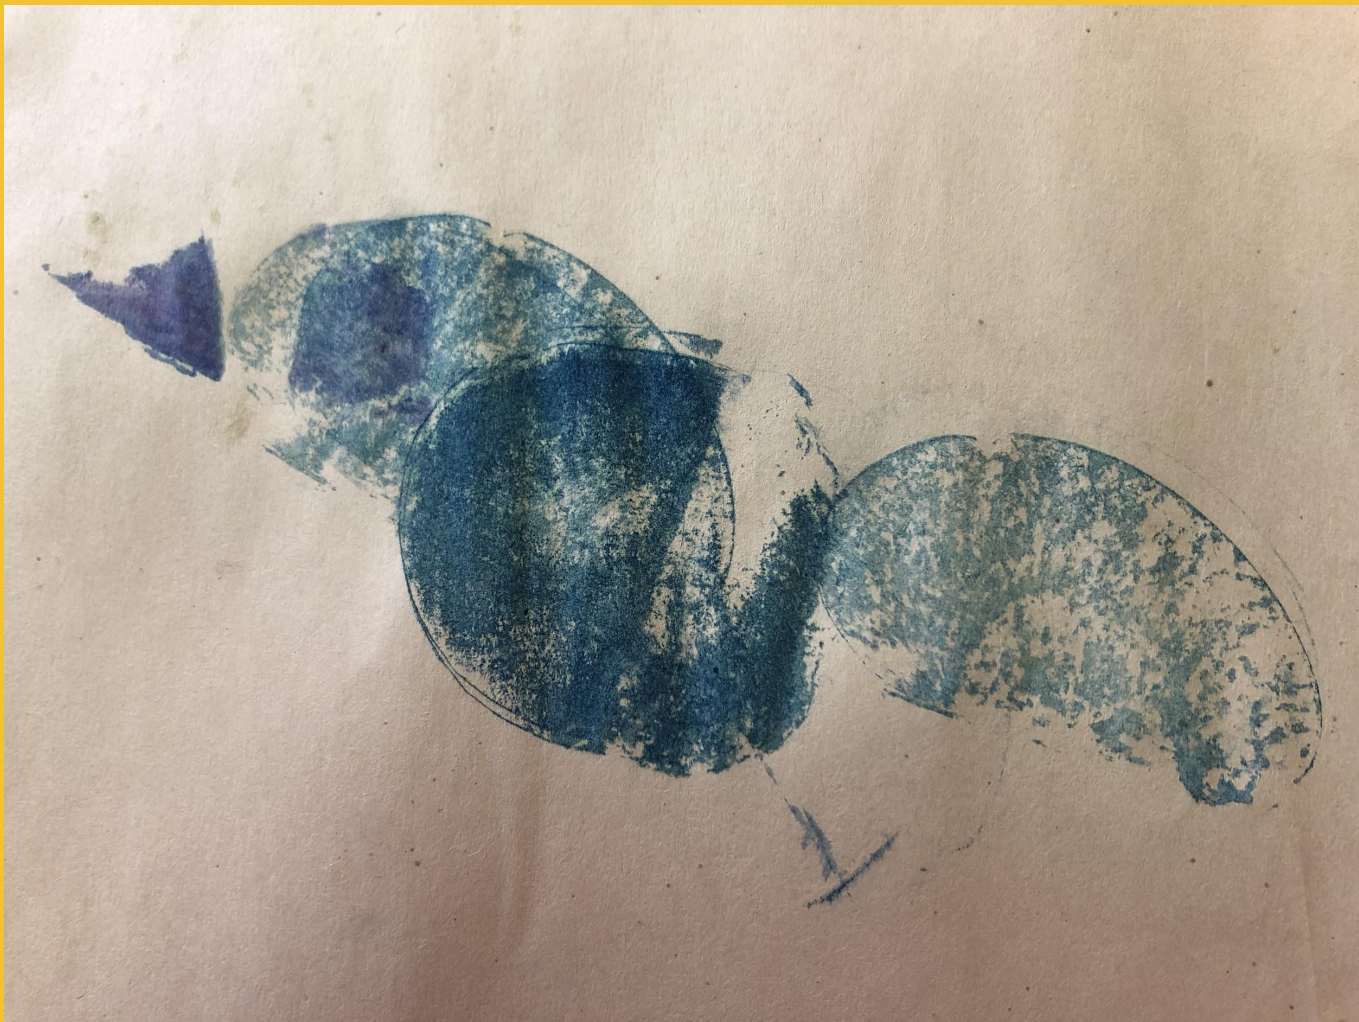

This lesson inspired by Charley Harper fit perfectly with our current study of shapes in math. We printed birds and simplified them even more by looking for the basic shapes. We used potato and apple stamps to create the birds. Harper always said that he did not 'count the feathers, only the wings.'

'SNOW

RO NAD

