The Walrus

By: Landon Hanak

Introduce Animal and Habitat

- Did you know female walruses give birth after about fifteen months?
- They are known for doting on their children like humans
- Walruses are very fat, but for a good reason.

Diet and Predators

- Walruses eat a variety of foods. First, they eat shrimp, crabs, tube worms, soft corals, and tunicates.
- The walruses predators are the killer whale and the polar bear.
- In addition, they like to munch on cucumbers, mollusks, and even parts of other pinnipeds.

Interesting facts

- Pinnipeds are commonly known as seals. Walruses do not chew their food.
- They sometimes crush clams shells when they eat.
- Their blubber keeps them warm in frigid waters.

Click on my research paper to read more!

H.A

M-Consi-

39mar 5, 2001

Leebobsek Sor Testor

Did you have that beforehold not believe to the layer species of not believe to the mark? There are only about theny the document aroung fronter, but note, compared to one bracked and fifteen pooring fronter in 1990. Their arountic name is Sequence but Controls. Further not considered in type of epiths. A regain is a cold blooded minute with nodes. This means is one for an load and in more. Then are magnification for which they also story as for the points.

The so der only one made due have and here a duel and long units. Although a dury one have buy entire and a duel, a does have very long time. Then the are like published being them or an illumph due wome. The best diagram on like a commany when I then not under an here a long as are no live. They can amplying to tree discount ground.

They set a fee of polytical most one against. The sea tention point the depths of the second to see that had it has been also as well the time blank as and a depth or retain booked and discussed.