

The Goblin Shark

By Sofia Booth

The Goblin Shark

The shark that one knows about, and anyone that does know about thinks it is unattractive

The Goblin shark lives in these areas:

- The Atlantic Ocean
- Oceania and Indo-Pacific
- Eastern Pacific

Diet and Predators

The Goblin Shark mostly eats fish and small creatures like some type of small squid. The Goblin Shark's only predators are other sharks.

Interesting Facts

The Goblin Shark can extend its mouth three inches from its jaw! The Goblin shark lives in the trenches, oo! Spooky! And...last but not least..the least fact is..drumroll please..The Goblin Shark's name comes from a Japanese demon!

That's all you need to know about The Goblin Shark! Goodbye!

Click on my research paper to read more!

